Summary

Full Stack Web Developer specializing in M.E.R.N. stack applications. Proficient in using current Web Development technologies. As a recent graduate of the University of Pennsylvania LPS Coding Boot Camp, the completion of the rigorous school program proves the ability to meet deadlines as well as strong ability to learn new technologies on the fly. For years has been applying computer science knowledge to make interactive art and developing game prototypes. Continues to be an accomplished real time media designer and video jockey. Has performed and presented artwork with some of the worlds top musical acts and DJ's. In the last three years has been invited to lecture at NYU Tisch School of the Arts on the subject of creating real time visuals with code. As a new graduate of UPenn's LPS Coding Boot Camp, I am looking forward to applying my new skills to web development projects.
